ABOUT THE WINERY

Hubert and Heidi Hausherr live and work in the picturesque village of Eguisheim in Alsace, France. 40 years ago, Hubert helped his father plant their family's 3.9 hectares of vineyards on the sloped foothills of the Vosges Mountains. Since Hubert took over all of the vineyards have been converted to organic or biodynamic agriculture. They make wines without additives, completely by hand, except for the help of their trusty horse skippy. These wines are pure expressions of Alsatian terroir. Elegant, and generous, but a little rough around the edges, just the way we like.
